The Billionaire's Game ~ Kade (The Billionaire's Obsession, Book 4)

Synopsis

With his professional football career over due to a tragic accident, billionaire Kade Harrison takes on the task of solving a mystery for his brother-in-law and friend, Max Hamilton. Without his former career to fill every minute of the day, Kade's looking for something to challenge him--now that he's lost the career that had meant everything to him. But what starts out as a simple favor soon becomes a whole lot more than he bargained for when the woman he's seeking slips away from him every time he gets close to finding her. When Kade does finally corner her, things start to get even more complicated. Asha Paritala is nothing like he expected, and the female he had tracked down as a favor for Max soon becomes a woman he wants for his very own, a woman who makes protective and highly predatory instincts he didn't know he had flare to life inside him. Kade soon discovers that he wants Asha's total surrender to the desire and passion that vibrates intensely between the two of them, but he also wants her trust, the one thing Asha's history makes it difficult for her to give. Can Kade convince her that some things are worth risking it all? Caught between two worlds, Asha Paritala is homeless, broke and damaged from a life of abuse and neglect. Born of an American mother and an Indian immigrant father, Asha was raised as an Indian woman by a foster family after the death of her natural parents when she was little more than a baby. She's spent her entire life under the control of others until finally breaking free two years earlier, and she's determined to keep her freedom, even if it means she has to struggle to survive. But when she meets Kade Harrison, her resolve is tested. After Kade helps her through a bad situation, she finds herself beginning to trust Kade as she's never trusted a man before. Kade is everything she always thought a man should be, but can she lose herself in him completely when she knows she's damaged and confused. And is it really possible that she could be a lost sibling to two people like Max Hamilton and Maddie Hudson? Asha is tempted by the possibility of family, and the irresistible lure of a man like Kade Harrison. Can a woman caught between two cultures, so flawed and so backward, really reach out and take what she wants, or will the instinct to run from the pain of her past destroy the hope of happiness for her future? Find out if two broken souls can heal each other in The Billionaire's Game, book 4 of The Billionaire's Obsession series!! This is a complete novel with no cliffhangers. 18+ due to sexual situations and graphic language.

I loved books one and two. Max however was a tad off and a let down. I love this last book and fell in love with Kade. I learned a lot about Indian culture. I was not surprised that the culture was filled with beatings. I did know however that in India women are second class citizens. No women on earth should feel less than anyone. I felt sorry for Asha. Brainwashed from infancy on but brave to overcome the obstacles that were put in her way. I am glad she included characters from the first 3 books although not enough. Very well written up to J. S. Scott's standards. I can't wait for the next book.

Let me start by saying I have, read and reread every book in this series and loved every single one but this one left a lot to be desired for me. The 3 stars is based 100% on Kade and what an awesome balance he is of hot, possessive alpha male and protective, lovable sweetheart. Asha, however left me irritated and ticked off. I appreciate that she was a survivor and had a lot of issues to overcome...but so has every other H/h in this series and so did Kade. The other H/h's in this series have risked their lives and sacrificed in major ways for each other. Asha was inconsiderate and selfish...walking away from a man who has turned his life upside down and inside out to help her and her own family without saying a word. If she needed space and time to heal and become her own person then why not talk to these people who have done so much to help her and love her. Instead as soon as she has a few dollars in her pocket she takes off without a word to anyone. To me getting her final bout of super hot sex and then slinking off without a word and breaking Kade's heart was just sorry and in the end I don't think she ever did anything to make it up to him or to deserve his understanding and love. On a side note, I found the over abundant use of "I'm an Indian woman and (insert stereotypical cultural assumption here)" lines beyond irritating. Yes I understand their culture still has issues with women's rights, domestic violence etc...news flash, so does almost every other culture in the world. I feel like her Indian heritage was more focused on in the book than it should have been in that respect. In my opinion, the focus should have been more about Asha and Kade overcoming their pasts and healing together, which has been Ms. Scott's formula for success up to this point in the series.

Kade is an ex-pro football star looking for his new direction in life. He is helping his brother-in-law, Max, and friend Maddie look for their half-sister, Asha. From the time Kade and Asha meet, Kade's alpha male protector comes out in full force. Asha is of Indian-American descent. She was raised culturally as a conservative Indian in a foster family. She escaped an abusive husband and is looking to find her footing both emotionally and financially. She uses her art talents to paint commissioned murals in clients homes. Kade and Asha both conflict, and burn up the sheets (and many other surfaces) together. Given time, they both find the futures they were destined for and help each other on that journey. Another of Mrs. Scott's great stories with a HEA. Looking forward to Travis' story. Why do I expect Ally will play a major role?

WOW what a book, for me this book is by far the best in the series from the very first chapter you were gripped into the story. And Travis oh boy, what a man, hot, sexy, a raging ball of sex appeal he has it all he is definitely my book husband of 2014. Brooding in his office barking orders at Ally he is shocked when for the first time she stands up to him and challenges back, the relationship between them is smoking hot. A must read if you are a fan of the series this will definitely shoot to the top of the billionaire books. It's by far my favorite.

Asha is half American and half Indian, raised by Indian foster parents, married off to an Indian man who rules her with his fists. She was always treated cruelly, but she got away and ran!!!!Kade is friends with Max...and as a favor to Max he is tracking down a half sibling to Max and Maddie.....ASHA!!!And when Kade finds Asha the story begins.It is beautiful, heartbreaking,loving, eye opening and...HOT!!!

Love this story! Can't wait for the next book. I would love to see a followup book about all of the players.

HONESTLY This book is fabulous, another sizzling contemporary romance by the talented J.S. Scott (Jan). Jan's Billionaires are flawed, Strong Alpha males. The ladies that keep them in line are not your usual leading ladies.Travis is a "difficult" man to work for, grouchy and demanding. Ally is hard working woman who suffers when betrayal crashes her perfectly planned life. Can she move on and pick up pieces? Find out in this steamy, romantic story of healing hearts.This book is my favorite in the series so far.... I can't wait to see who she will feature next! I am a long time fan of J.S. Scott. This book is available Now!! Meet Travis and Ally you are going to love them!!

I love this entire series and this book was no exception. I recommend any books by this author. Thank you for the great reads
